2. [redacted] and I lunched with Mr. Walsh and Mr. McTigue of the House Baltic Committee to discuss their forthcoming hearings in Germany. They had contemplated bringing King Michael to Germany for hearings, but the difficulties surrounding this proposal were pointed out to them. We also pointed out the difficulties they would face in crowding all of their proposals into their limited time schedule and, therefore, recommended that they concentrate on the Munich witnesses. We assured them of continued complete cooperation from RFE.
